WELCOME TO VISITORS

Treasurer's Report Is Given At Missionary Convention Last Night—More Delegates Register.

Although presented with but one week of rehearsal, the pageant, "The Torch Bearers," given at the First Methodist Church last night reflected adequate preparation and attracted much favorable comment from the large audience which almost filled the church auditorium.

The work of Mrs. C. C. Leeson, who carried the role of the prolocutor in the pageant, received the greatest commendation. Although Mrs. Leeson had an exceptionally long part, she had mastered it well, and her method of presentation was the high light of the performance.

The stage was flanked on either side with ferns and baskets of flowers. The effect of lighted candles added to the beauty of the scene and when the entire cast of eighty persons was on the stage, the ensemble effect was beautiful. A contrasting color scheme of black and white was used throughout the pageant.

Much of the success is due to the efforts of Mrs. Ed G. Orear, Mrs. E. F. Wolfert, Mrs. W. W. Stanfield, and Mrs. Leeson.

During the pageant twenty women, dressed as pilgrims, stood on the extreme sides of the stage. They were dressed in black with black veils over their heads. Twenty heralds of dawn, dressed in white with white satin bandeau around their heads, were next on the stage. Each carried a Bible in one hand and a candle in the other.

Mrs. Leeson, dressed in black, occupied the center of the stage. The angels of light came next. They were dressed in white with tulle bands of the same color around their heads. These bands were held in place by big rosettes.

The members of the choir were dressed as angels, and sang several times during the pageant. Miss Mae Corwin, as soloist, sang "Is It Nothing to You?"

An interesting part of the pageant was the arrival of the nations. Women, in appropriate costumes, represented India, Japan, Korea, Africa, Burma, China, and the Moslems.

Before the pageant, the treasurer's report was heard and Dr. C. C. James, pastor of the local church, gave the address of welcome.

The report of Mrs. W. H. Arnold of Des Moines, treasurer of the Des Moines branch, gives the expenditures of this branch during the conference year ending September 30, 1925, as $229,976.28. This money was spent for missionaries as well as for buildings and other work in foreign countries. The receipts for the year were $209,816.96, being a gain of $12,000 over a year ago. The balance on hand at the beginning of the year was $78,006.10 and the balance on hand at present is $57,846.78.

Mrs. Arnold has served nineteen years without pay as treasurer of the Des Moines Branch of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. She was for five years conference treasuret and thirteen years as local auxiliary treasurer, making a total of thirty years in this work.

There will be a meeting for all negro women at the African M. E. Church at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. At this time there will be an address by the evangelist secretary of the Southern Missouri Conference.

In addition to those whose names were given in yesterday's paper, the following delegates had registered today:

Mrs. W. N. Houston, Burlington Junction; Mrs. Ira Williams, Maitland; Mrs. S. R. Foster, Eldon, Ia.; Mrs. W. L. Allen, Afton, Ia.; Mrs. L. E. Wilson, Davenport; Mrs. S. H. Turbeville and Mrs. W. A. JUDGE LANDIS ACTS

Confers With Club Officials and Umpires—In Washington Tomorrow, Sunday and Monday

Washington, Oct. 9—Rain washed out the third game of the world's series between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Washington Senators here today.

Rain which fell intermittently during the forenoon bogged down the playing field and after surveying conditions, Judge Keresaw Landis, high commissioner of baseball, officially called off today's game after conferring with club officials and the umpires.

This postponement means that tomorrow, Sunday and Monday, the two teams will play in Washington and then go to Pittsburgh for the remaining games, if any are required.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Alex Ferguson, reformed misfit of major league baseball, will pitch tomorrow's World Series game for the Washington Senators against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Walter Johnson will be the Senators' hurler on Sunday and Coveleski will return to the mound for Monday's encounter.

The announcement was made this afternoon by Stanley Harris, manager of the Senators, after rain had caused a postponement of the third game of the series. The rain fitted into Harris' plans like a cork in a bottle, he said.

PUTS BLAME ON NAVY DEPT.

MRS. LANSDOWNE CREATES SENSATION AT HEARING.

URGED AGAINST FLIGHT

Western Trip Of Shenandoah Was Merely For "Political Purposes," Widow of Dirigible Commander Says.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Defending the memory of her husband, Mrs. Margaret Lansdowne, widow of Commander Zachary Lansdowne of the ill-fated Shenandoah, today placed responsibility for the dirigible disaster directly upon the navy department, in testifying before the naval court of inquiry.

Mrs. Lansdowne flatly told the court her husband had protested vigorously against the flight but that he was overruled by higher officers.

"He felt the Shenandoah should only be used for war purposes," said Mrs. Lansdowne, "and should not be used for commercial purposes, such as a flight to the Middle West, so the taxpayers there could look over their property. The flight was solely for political purposes."

She told the court her statements were amply supported by official documents in the navy department, and she then proceeded to read the documents.

One of these was the record of Lansdowne's protest, which was officially marked "Disapproved."

Her statements came as a startling surprise to the court of inquiry as Mrs. Lansdowne repudiated a similiar declaration made the morning after the disaster. Mrs. Lansdowne's statement, prepared in advance, was received in dead silence. The board's surprise, in fact, was so great that its members conferred for five minutes in whispers before continuing the inquiry.

Then the court adjourned until Monday immediately after the whispered conference, without subjecting Mrs. Lansdowne to cross-examination.

THE ONLY DAILY PAPER IN NODAWAY COUNTY

U. S. AND MINORITIES.

The Interparliamentary Union conference was the occasion for the criticism by Dr. Wilhelm Medinger, Czechoslovakian delegate, of the American policy of political isolation from Europe. He can not understand why the United States persists in its refusal to intermeddle in European politics.

The delegate from Czechoslovakia is also concerned with the future of the European minorities, which he says are suffering under the conditions imposed by the Versailles treaty. What would Doctor Medinger think of American intervention and the rights of minorities if the United States should accept his challenge and guarantee German domination for the German minority in the Republic of Czechoslovakia?

Foreign visitors, of course, have no way of knowing that the suggestion that the United States should concern itself with the wrangling and bellicose minorities in Europe is very distasteful to the people of this country. The American people can not sympathize with the cause of the European minorities. In the single cities of New York are minorities greater than those which are making such a howl against the "oppression" of their governments. The United States has as many minorities as all Europe but they do not make demands for special concessions, such as the public maintenance of schools teaching their native languages, adoption of their tongue as the "official" language of the nation, and similiar trifles.

Alien minorities, which find things in this country not to their liking are respectfully reminded that they are at liberty to return to their mother country. The danger from applying this policy to European republics rests in the fact that some of them would have no population left if they deported their many minorities.

If the 400 ministers who hope to reform Chicago succeed, we will all be optimists in future.

These days they promise to love their husbands for a while at least, and humor and obey their impulses.

The Kirksville teams report 208 memberships in their Chamber of Commerce and they expect to make the number 300 before their drive is finished.

President Coolidge says a big army is no guarantee of peace and the President is right. Great war preparation promotes success in war but it doesn't promote peace, and peace is what the world wants.

The one per cent a year for five years on the French debt wouldn't have been so bad, if it carried with it a definite understanding of the amount of the debt at the end of that time. If we have to wait five years simply to re-open the argument as to how much they will agree to pay as principal in addition to an agreement on interest and installments and length of time over which the debt is to be spread, then the recent conference certainly didn't amount to much.

Whenever you feel like abusing your town or complaining because you think it ought to be a better town, or criticising other men because they have not worked miracles, pause long enough to ask yourself this question, "What have I done to make it a better town?" When this is answered, try this one, "What am I willing to do in co-operation with my fellow citizens toward making it a better and bigger and more prosperous town?" When you have answered that as a good, live citizen should answer it, just put your mite in along with your neighbors and get your shoulder to the wheel and you will soon be enjoying the returns that come from such an investment. The main reason that some towns prosper, where others drop behind is that in some towns, everybody works together for the general welfare, while in others, some work while others complain.

ALL THE WORLD'S A DIAMOND.

All the world's a diamond and all the men and women merely fans now that the titanic struggle for the world's baseball championship has started. It is ever thus when autumn's tints are on the leaves and work becomes burdensome during the latter half of the afternoon. To baseball followers in every part of the United States the playing of the world series typifies all the superlatives of perfection in the great national pastime, and their interest in the series never wanes until the final decision is rendered.

It matters not whether the fans live in the cities whose teams are clashing for baseballdom's stellar honors or whether they have their habitat in even the most isolated of villages, the same keen, enthusiastic interest is all-pervading. Baseball truly can be termed the great American sport, and the number of participants who engage in the playing of it at some time or other during the season is far in excess of the number indulging in any other form of athletic diversion. It is a clean, wholesome sport, and no better finale could be given to the season's windup than the playing of the world series contests.

Looks may be deceiving but women and autos never get to be over 25 years old.

It is getting almost time for the annual advance notice that the cranberry crop will be short.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER
By Charles P. Stewart
NEA Service Writer.

* * * * * * * * *

Washington—Young Bob La Follette's big majority in Wisconsin—it was a foregone conclusion he would win but not necessarily by such a wide margin—is taken by many astute politicians here as indicating that the G. O. P. will have a real fight on its hands to obtain effective control of the next Senate.

The La Follette victory doesn't change the situation at the moment, but those political sharks whose main occupation is "keeping their ears to the ground" believe it suggests some this year the line-up was:

Republicans whom their party recognized as such though several of them were too independent to be relied upon much, 51; Republicans, by election but read out of the party for insurgency, 4; Democrats, 40; Farmer-Labor, 1.

Already the independents in the Republican ranks enabled the Democrats and insurgents to override G. O. P. control on important measures, but the figures show that if the Republicans should lose only four states, their total strength would be cut down to 47—not a majority.

To begin with, the La Follette progressives having proved their ability to roll up 135,000 majority for young Bob, it's hard to believe they won't beat Senator Lenroot in 1926 and put an insurgent—presumably the present Wisconsin governor, John J. Blaine—on the job.

It will also surprise the politicians—administration politicians won't admit it but they'll be surprised nevertheless—if, at the same election, Arizona, Maryland, Kentucky and Oklahoma don't choose Democrats in place of the four Republicans who wear their togas now.

That foots up five prospectively lost administration seats, which would cut its showing down to 46 instead of 47 if it weren't for the bare possibility that the regulars may manage to substitute one of their own kind for the late insurgent Senator Ladd of North Dakota. This isn't likely, but it's possible.

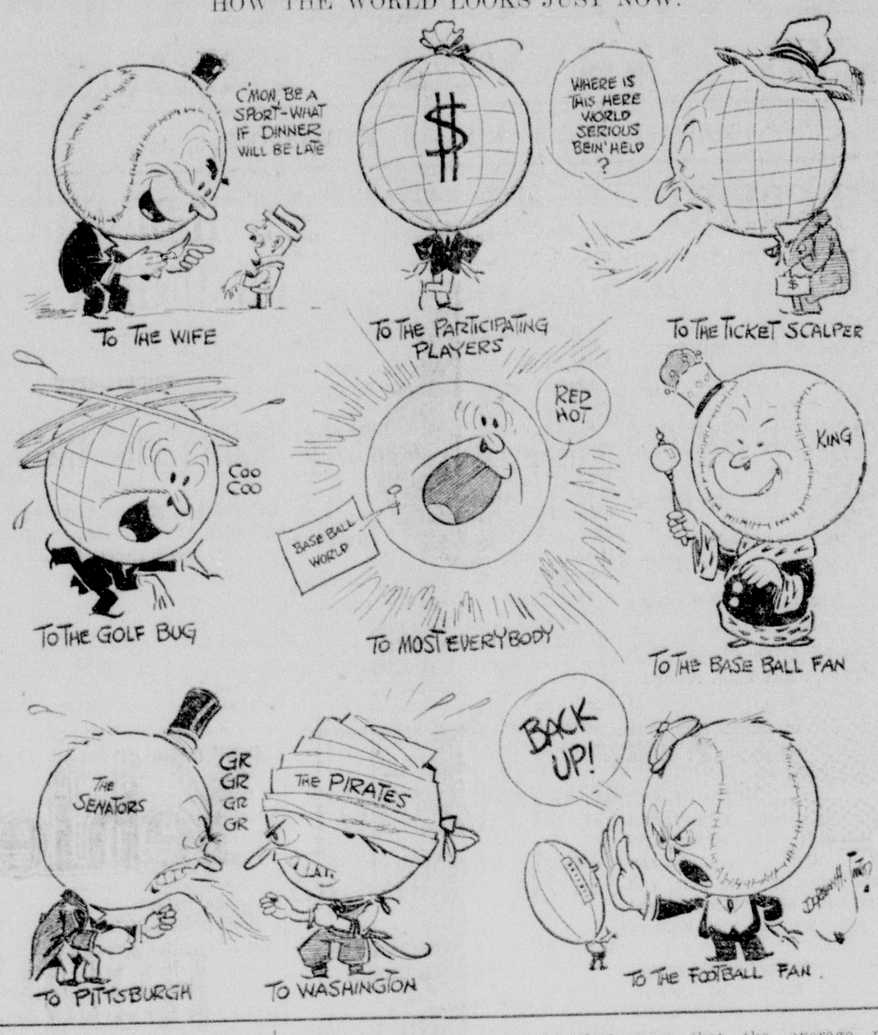
HOW THE WORLD LOOKS JUST NOW.



Motor Tax Cut to Benefit Owners

Auto Manufacturers Agree To Pass On Reduction, According To Statement Of Mo. Automobile Club.

Every cent of reduction in the automotive excise taxes that Congress authorizes in the next revenue bill will accrue to the benefit of automobile owners, according to a statement issued today by Matthew F. Morse, Secretary and General Manager of the Automobile Club of Missouri.

This assurance was given to local motorists by Mr. Morse on the basis of reports from the National Headquarters of the American Automobile Association, where at recent meeting every phase of the automotive industry was represented and the participants virtually bound themselves to give the consumers the full benefit of reduction or complete elimination of the War Excise Tax on motor Vehicles, accessories and tires.

"In urging the motorists," he said, "to get behind their Senators and Representatives for the repeal of the tax, the Automobile Club of Missouri is confident that it will mean material reduction in the price of automobiles, accessories, and parts in 1926. That means reduction in operating expenses all along the line.

"The groups representing the entire industry which took part in the recent meeting at A. A. A. Headquarters in Washington were in accord that every cent of relief granted by Congress would be passed on to the owners of automobiles. In fact the manufacturers have in most instances gone on record to that effect of their own volition.

"While the elimination of the Excise Tax would mean an average reduction of $29.00 on each new automobile purchased, apart from the tax on parts, the repeal of the tax would mean a good deal more in practice for the reason that the overhead caused by complicated book-keeping machinery is now passed on to the users."

In stressing the importance of local motorists getting in personal touch with their Representatives in Congress, Mr. Morse pointed out that the House of Representatives have already promised to give one hundred per cent support to the repeal program, while many others have displayed strong sympathy for the demands for motordom. It is all very well to work in Washington, but what counts most in the final reckoning is unremitting hammering in the form of appeals from the constituents 'back home.' If the motorists do their part and do it now we may safely predict a victory for the cause in Ways and Means Committee. This would mean that the repeal of the tax would go through Congress without a fight.

Wyoming to Abandon Last Street Car Line

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 9 (United Press).—Wyoming is about to become a state without a single street car service.

The Sheridan Electric Railway Company, operating the last street car system in the state, has made application to abandon its lines.

The Sheridan Railway serves that town and a small agricultural and coal mining region adjacent to it. The owners declare the automobile has so taken away their passengers that they have been operating at a loss for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garten left yesterday in their car for Las Animas, Colo., where the former will enter a hospital.

Germany Tries For Plane Domination

Allies, View With Alarm Teutons Effort To Control Commercial Air Developments In Europe.

By KEITH JONES

(United Press Staff Correspondent).

London, Oct. 9.—English aircraft experts are viewing with alarm Germany's great bid for domination of Europe in commercial aviation.

Limitations that the Allies thought they had put upon the growth of a Germany aircraft industry have been ingeniously evaded by the German's establishment of aircraft factories just across her borders in neighboring countries, it is said.

Against England five directly operated and seven jointly operated airway routes, German has forty-five routes operated entirely under German supervision, and seventeen other routes, which she operates jointly with the nationals of other countries.

Of the 132 air lines now operating in all parts of the world, 62 or nearly half are under German control or aided by German capital. In addition airplanes of German design, and manufactured by German workmen in factories close to the borders of Germany, are in great demand in [illegible] operated by other [illegible].

Built to fly with less power than the other European makes of airplanes and equipped with more comforts for the passengers, German-built machines, especially the Junker machines—are in great demand.

Another feature of the German airplanes, which recommends them to operators is the fact that most of the German machines are constructed of metal throughout, they can remain out-of-doors for long periods of time and in any kind of weather without material damage.

In addition to the 62 routes already in operation, Germany is understood to be planning a new air service between Dresden, Prague and Vienna. A Warsaw-Copenhagen service will be started shortly with Junkers' sea-planes. Between Trieste and Vienna an air route is being planned by a mixed German and Italian company, while application has been made to the government of Angola (West Afgrica) for the establishment of a German air route in that colony.

Prohibited by the Versailles Treaty from constructing airplanes larger than small two-seaters, Germany has nevertheless by a studied compliance with the letter of the Treaty but evasion if its spirits, pushed herself into the position of the foremost country of the world in commercial aviation.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Johnny Torrio, erstwhile beer runner, who is out on $5,000 bond, has given up the beer chasing profession.

Before he was released from the county jail, he announced his retirement.

"I've sold out for $200,000 and I'm through with the beer business" he said.

Columbia, Mo., Oct. 8.—The question of whether or not there should be music in the Christian Church at Lamines, was ruled out of the circuit court here recently by Judge David H. Harriss. He rendered a decision as "dismissed with prejjnice."

Teddy, the Bear, Is as Tame as a Cat. Therefore, Bearcat

If you meet Teddy, the new Teachers' College mascot, don't be alarmed and create a scene. True, he's a bear, but he's just a tame one, and wouldn't harm a baby, according to Leo B. Knox, who won him at the American Legion convention in Omaha.

Teddy made his first official appearance at the Bearcat-Peru game this afternoon. Attached to a long chain, he created quite a sensation as he nosed around the field.

"He's going to be the College mascot," Leo Knox said. "That is, he's going to occupy that position until he goes into hibernation. They tell me that he'll sleep all winter, but I'll bet he wakes up long enough to eat three times a day."

Teddy isn't at all particular about his diet. He's just as fond of a piece of meat as of a comb of honey, and, ol provocation, he might possibly make a hearty meal out of an old shoe.

The bear, which is about the size of a large collie, arrived in Maryville Wednesday from Omaha. Mr. Knox won him on a raffle from the Wisconsin delegation which used him as its mascot.

"He's a bear, but he's as tame as a cat. Therefore he should make a real Bearcat," said the owner.

"Great Conference" Says Elmo Minister

(By Edgar G. Wells, Minister.)

A great conference, and a great bishop, is Frederick T. Keeney, whose sermon on Sunday morning, and address at the college chapel, were master pieces, in thought as well as diction, and yet so simple that they could be understood by the children, many of whom were present, and withal, his brotherly spirit, captured every one of us. The appointments were read at about four p. m. Sunday, and we reached home at about six o'clock having come across with the A. R. Alexander party who came to Tarkio to enjoy the feast of good things.

The services for next Sunday will be at the usual hours, in the morning with worship and sermon at 11:00 a. m., and the evening service will be held at 7:00 p. m., and a fine song service preceding the sermon. We also hope to have special music at each service. The themes will be as follows. "A Vision of Contrasts," and at night, "A Tree Laden With Luscious Fruit."

"Beloved, now are we the Sons of God," and the Father hand of God is filled with gifts for "all who care." Care to ask for them, and care to believe His word without caviling over it. We trust that we shall meet a large congregation of the members of this church, and you who have not been coming regularly, surprise us, and make our hearts glad by your presence, and let's make this the greatest year in the history of this church. Who else will say yes? Now all together, "YES." with a capital "Y."

Display Big Corn at Farmers Trust

John Gex of Graham recently brought in four ears of yellow corn, which measure from twelve and a half to thirteen and a quarter inches long. The combined weight of the ears when brought in was six and a half pounds.

Judge Cockrell May Run For Senator

Warrensburg, Mo., Oct. 9.—Despite the desire of political leaders in both parties to soft-pedal the liquor question in the next senatorial campaign, indications are it will become an issue.

Judge Ewing Cockrell of this city, son of the late Senator Francis Marion Cockrell, and personally dry, will announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for senator in a few days.

The two leading candidates now in the race, Representative Harry B. Hawes, Democrat, and Senator George H. Williams, Republican, both of St. Louis, have been classed as "wets." Neither as yet, has discussed publicly the liquor question.

It is believed Judge Cockrell will run on a platform of law enforcement, stressing the question of needed changes in court precedure. He was one of the leaders in organizing the association now making a crime survey of Missouri. Several weeks last summer, he was in New York aiding in the movements for a national crime survey and a nation wide move for the elimination of legal technicalities in court procedure.

Judge Cockrell is not a fanatical "dry." He believes, however, that national prohibition cannot be given a fair test until congress provides an edequate number of enforcement officers.

Highway No. 27 Is All Surveyed

(Savannah Reporter).

From the hill north of the G. W. Gee farm the survey for Highway 27 remains in the road as it is now all the way down in front of the homes of Ephraim Townsend, Warren H. Townsend, the survey continuing on south, where the present road turns west, following the Great Western railroad track and coming into the city limits of Savannah between the homes of G. W. E. Scott and A. E. Frazee, turning east on Bennett avenue and going east over the overhead bridge.

The concrete mixer is not at the fair grounds but is ready to move when the roads are in condition for a completion of the paving on the East St. Joseph road to the trestle but the rain has delayed work several weeks.

THIS IS GOD'S COUNTRY

Comment on the Uniform International Sunday School Lesson for October 11, 1925.

Read Acts 18.

A Buddhist priest years ago said: "If one is a man, the mills of heaven and earth grind him to perfection; if not, to destruction."

Paul, who was fond of styling himself the Apostle to the Gentiles, required a great deal of grinding in order that he might be fashioned properly to do the work for which he was destined. It required a miracle to bring him into the service of the Master, it required ten years to bring him to the point where he might effectively become an exponent of the Christian religion and be trusted to teach others and when he did begin his great missionary work the Lord had to lock him in prison and even throw him out of city walls with but little life left in his frail body.

A lesser man would have given up long ago. Under lesser grinding Paul would not have accomplished the work which he did accomplish. Most of us break down under the polishing process and some of us think we are mightily abused when the mills of heaven and earth place us on the wheels of destiny.

At one time Paul was about ready to quit and give it up as a bad job. He had been thrown forcibly out of four cities in succession. Enemies had followed him from one city to another. From Athens he had drifted over to Corinth, at that time one of the most famous cities in the world, famous in wealth and commerce, famous for its luxury and famous for its vice. It was the capital of the Roman province of Achaia and thought to be an impregnable citadel. Now archeologists dig about in the ruins if, perchance, they may find the stones of the streets on which the Apostle Paul stepped, or the columns under which he walked.

Paul was broke when he entered Corinth. When a man is in a strange city, where the people care nothing about him, and broke, we can hardly wonder that he becomes depressed.

PAUL PLANTS THE CHURCH IN CORINTH.

Scripture Lesson—Acts 18. 1-17.

1 After these things Paul Departed from Athens, and came to Corinth;

2 And found a certain Jew named Aquila, born in Pontus, lately come from Italy, (with his wife Priscilla; (because that Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome:) and came unto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, and wrought: for by their occupation they were tentmakers.

4 And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded the Jews and the Greeks.

5 And when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was pressed in the spirit, and testified to the Jews that Jesus was Christ.

6 And when they opposed themselves, and blasphemed, he shook his raiment, and said unto them, Your blood be upon your own heads; I am clean: from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles.

7 And he departed thence, and entered into a certain man's house, named Justus, one that worshipped God, whose house joined hard to the synagogue.

8 And Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord with all his house; and many of the Corinthians hearing believed, and were baptized.

9 Then spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace:

10 For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee: for I have much people in this city.

11 And he continued there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

Golden Text—Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace.—Acts 18:9.

Paul did as we do under such circumstances, hunted up a family which had the same trade. I never go into a strange place but I first hunt up the printing office. It is a tradition among the craft that a stranger of the profession who is broke may always find his bed and board from fellow printers. It was so with those of Paul's day who were tentmakers. In Corinth there was a couple who had been run out of Rome. They were tentmakers and were living simply in a modest home by the work of their hands. They took Paul in and fed him and then put him to making the tents of the rough heavy cloth or to making the cloth itself.

Paul's courage came back somewhat and he tried to preach in the synagogue and was again scorned and cast forth by the Jews. The mills of heaven and earth were still grinding him. When his courage was at its very lowest, and when he had almost concluded that life was not worth living, when he had begun to wonder if he was on the right track after all, he had a vision and this was the message that came to Paul: "Be not afraid, for I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to harm thee; for I have much people in this city."

Paul must have been almost doubtful. The idea that the Lord had much people in wicked Corinth was hard to believe. Paul had about concluded that he and Aquilla and Priscilla were the only Christians in that city of 400,000 people, and sometimes he doubted about Aquila and Priscilla or even himself. Another great prophet once made the same mistake and received the same rebuke. Elijah, running from his enemies who sought to take his life, called out to God that all the good people in the world were dead and that he only was left. God showed him 7,000 right about him.

From that time Paul went forth with renewed courage and soon had established a fine church at Corinth among the Gentiles. He remained there eighteen months and was almost contented. The church people begged him to stay longer, but the time of the Passover was near and he wanted to go to Jerusalem for that great event. He was homesick. And also he wanted to see his old friends of the church and tell them his adventures. So he took his new friends, Aquila and Priscilla, with him in the ship and sailed for Jerusalem.

Dr. Lynn H. Hough is quoted: "It is easy to read a city down to the level of the audacious vices which characterize some of its citizens." I have more than once heard men say that the bad in our country overbalanced the good and they would point to our cities, our wonderful, beautiful, wicked cities as a proof of what they said. They were like Elijah and like Paul and were ready to cry out, I only am left. If they would just give the vision which is ready to come to them an opportunity they would see that all around them in these very cities were thousands of men and women who have never bowed the knee to Baal nor kissed him.

The vices of our cities are stamped for us to read upon every front page of every newspaper until we begin to believe there is nothing else in all that city. It takes a vision to make us see that underneath, where the steady current of our life runs day by day, there is clean, deep water and that the froth and the driftwood and the muddied currents are only on the shallow top.

A favorite expression we have all heard is "This is God's country." We hear it from those who are returning home after some trip, we hear it from those who are urging others to come and live with them and we hear it often when the speaker has not much acquaintance with God, but wants to express the highest terms of a favored land.

This is God's country, this United States of ours. We may become discouraged as did Paul, we may be almost ready to give up as he was and to admit that the forces of evil are in the majority, we may be almost to the point when we have to whistle to keep up our courage, but we continue to insist that "This is God's country," and it is. I firmly believe that when God turned back Paul as he tried to take Christianity into Asia and sent him instead into Europe, He saw far in the future this great land of ours where Christianity should come for liberty of conscience and which should be His laboratory where the mills of heaven and earth should grind His people, not to destruction but to perfection.

I do not believe that the vices of the cities, which flaunt their brazen wares defiantly in our faces, represent the true heart of our country, nor that they will prevail over the men and women of the nation. I do not believe that men and women determined to break down our constitution and laws and defy decent government will win.

This is God's country and His people will meet the issue.

Mrs. Harley Hughes of Detroit, Mich., came yesterday for a short visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Coler, and Mr. Hughes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Hughes.

Late Czar's Stamps Offered at Auction

London, Oct. 9. (United Press)—Stamps valued at $250,000, property of the late Czar Nicholas of Russia are to be sold at auction here.

Like King George of England, the Emperor of all the Russians, was a keen philatelist.

The collection consists of the Romanoff issues of Russian stamps which appeared in 1913, and which took the Russian Government four years to prepare.

It contains original artists' proofs, showing all stages of the finished production. The stamps are in all colors, no two varieties being alike.

At the beginning of the war in 1914 the collection was delivered to the Czar. It was put aside for the time being, but later he took it with him into exile.

When he was transferred from Tobolsk to Yekaterinenburg, and his staff reduced, the collection was left behind, and recently was got through Europe with the assistance of a foreign mission.

Women Travelers Are Smuggling Silk

London, Oct. 9.—(United Press)—Silk smuggling between French and British ports is on the increase, according to British customs officials.

Women, of all nationalities, are the chief offenders. Attractive silk frocks lingeries, and silk stockings that can be bought at low cost in consequence of the existing rates of exchange on the Continent, prove an irresistible temptation.

Customs officials at Dover, one of the leading British ports for continental traffic, have had one busy time this year spotting feminine silk smugglers.

They aver that the wiles and artifices of mere man are nothing compared to the subterfuges adopted by women.

Recently a woman passed the Customs carrying a travelling cushion. A Customs officer noticed that the cushion was sewn together with ratner rough stitches. An examination revealed it contained a flannel dressing gown. The gown had frills. The frills were sewn down in a suspicious manner. A further examination revealed a beautiful silk opera wrap sewn between the cotton lining and the material making the gown.

A raincoat thrown carelessly over the arm has been known to hide the most expensive of silk garments.

In one day, as much as $1,000 has been collected in small fines by British customs officials for silk smuggling.

Naval Repair Ship Is Floating Foundry

Philadelphia, Oct. 9. (United Press)—A floating foundry equipped with electric furnaces for melting metal and electric ovens for baking molds has been added to the United States Navy in the commissioning of the U. S. S. Medusa, the first naval vessel designed and built solely as a repair ship.

The Medusa can go to any port, however remote, and make castings, except the very largest, that a man of war under campaign conditions may require.

The furnaces and ovens were installed to insure the speed and accuracy of work that are indispensable to repair of a warship during wartime. Castings made by the electric process are more accurate and durable due to the perfect control of the heating processes.

In addition to her casting equipment, the Medusa carries an optical and gyroscopic shop, plating, sheet-metal pipe, boiler and pattern shops.

The Medusa will not wait for war to begin work. Instead, she will accompany the United States fleet in all cruises and maneuvres and serve the ships as need arises.

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Grains rallied from a lower opening and closed with substantial gains on the Board of Trade today. Late profit selling cut total gains fractionally. No. 2 hard winter wheat sold at a new high on the crop.

Domestic cahs situation was the particular strengthening feature in wheat. Despite the pending government report and much time devoted to quoting on proposed changes in trading, buyers surged about the pit in large numbers.

Inclement weather and improved inquiry, both foreign and domestic, created brisk short covering in corn.

Oats followed other grains without feature.

Provisions failed to recover from an early slump.

Vigilantes

These three youthful vigilantes—Vincent Calvert, 18 (above), John Ryland, 18 (center), and Ben Williams, 22 (above)—are being held on first degree murder charges at Birmingham, Ala. They didn't like a young man who was courting Ryland's sister so they fired a shot at an auto in which they believed the couple was riding. It proved to be another car and the shot killed Agnes Lorraine Creel, a six-months-old baby. Calvert, a minister's son, admits firing the shot.

Badly Crippled Hi Team Starts Game

Battle With Tarkio There This Afternoon—Cockayne Is Suffering From Shoulder Injuries.

BULLETIN

No scores of the Maryville-Tarkio game had been received up to 3:45 o'clock this afternoon.

Badly crippled with the loss of Paul Kissinger, King, Tindall, Godsey and with the minor injuries of Cockayne and Howard, the Maryville High School football team started the game against Tarkio this afternoon. After a week of strenuous work-outs the Spoofhounds entered the game with following line-up:

Holt, le; Howard, lt; New, lg; Curfman, c; Nichols, rg; Hall, rt; Alsup, re; Cockayne, qb; Bratcher, rhb; Smith, lhb; and Kissinger, fb.

Coach W. H. Herbert took the following additional men with him on the trip: Porter, Caudell, Sorie, McMurry, King, Strong, and Bush.

The local coach refused to comment on the outcome of the game. "We know that Mound City and Fairfax have both won from Tarkio, but the strength of our own team has been materially weakened by injuries. I do not know how the new combination will work."

Cockayne, who started the game at quarter, is suffering from a pair of bad shoulders and may not be able to last the full game. Howard, too, is suffering from a like ailment and may have to be replaced at the left tackle berth.

Pity the Poor School Teachers

Neither Team Scores in Initial Quarter

Peru Eleven Late In Arriving Due To Car Trouble And Bad Roads—Visitors Average 175 Pounds.

BULLETIN.

The score at the end of the first quarter was 0 to 0.

Admirable football weather prevailing, the State Teachers College Bearcats and the eleven from the Peru State Normal and Teachers College Peru, Nebr., met this afternoon. A chilling wind greeted the teams as they took the field.

A representative crowd of spectators had gathered before either of the teams was out of the gymnasium, and when the Bearcats trotted out for signal running they were met with a round of cheers.

The game did not start on time because the visitors were late in reaching Maryville. They left Peru at 10 o'clock this morning and did not arrive until 2:50 o'clock this afternoon.

The bleachers had been moved across the cinder track earlier in the week and the crowd which filled them seemed to appreciate being closer to the playing field.

Coach Lawrence chose to start Graham at center, with Fouts and Hamilton at guards. Captain Sam England and Moentman were at tackles with Berst and Cox on the extremities. Willoughby was the Bearcat mentor's selection for quarter with Search and Eads, halves, and Masters, full, behind him.

Haley, former Kansas star, refereed the game, while Gharrett, a Drake man of the past, worked at umpire. W. N. Deatherage, Missouri, was head linesman.

Graf, the Peru coach, brought forty-six men to Maryville. The trip was made in two trucks and trouble necessitated the delay.

The Peru team averaged 175 pounds a man.

The line up:

Maryville: Berst, le; S. England, c, lt; Hamilton, lg; Graham, c; Fouts, rg; Moentmann, rt; Cox, re; Willoughby, q; Eads, rhb; Search, lhb; Masters, fb.

Peru: Haywood, le; Driver, lt; Garris, lg; Bunch,c; Williams, rg; Higgins, c, rt; Carter, re; McElroy, q; Bell, rhb; Zorn, lhb; Beuttgengach, fb.
